

Have you ever tried to figure out just what your thinking was about?
 My thinking...what my thinking was about? I never really thought about that...maybe my brain is shrinking if I can't think about my thinking!
 You think, and think and think and think still trying to figure out the link.
 How did you solve it, what did you do to get the correct answer for Mr. Moo?
 Did you count on the number line, use a grid, your fingers, draw a picture or just use a mixture?
 No, I just knew it; I am sure. I did not really use any magic cure. Did you count up or back to solve that math fact?
