

Name: _____

An Adverb Can Tell When

Adverbs give us more information about the verb (action) in a sentence. They can tell us when something happened, or is happening.

Here are some adverbs that tell when something is/ was done:

first	now	then	yesterday	today
soon	tomorrow	early	recently	sometimes	always once	lately	suddenly	never

Complete each sentence with an adverb that makes sense.

1. I wanted to go to the movie _____ but there wasn't time.
2. My mom likes to wake up _____ in the morning.
3. My entire family _____ celebrates Christmas at home.
4. My grandparents are coming _____ and will stay with us for a week!
5. The librarian has been busy _____ reshelving all the books.
6. The storm came on so _____ that there was no time to prepare.
7. If we get in the car right _____ we can make it there on time.
8. The travel channel _____ has some interesting shows.
9. My father went to Europe _____ when he was in the Navy.
10. She went to the store _____ and then the post office.
11. Cheating on tests is _____ allowed.
12. Can you come over _____, or do we need to reschedule?
13. Our vacation will be here _____, and we can hardly wait.
14. Have you heard from her _____, or has it been a while?