

Handwriting: that actions of emotion, of thought, and of decision that has recorded the history of mankind, revealed the genius of invention, and disclosed in inmost depths of the heart. Handwriting ties us to the thoughts and deeds of our forebears and serves as an irrevocable link to our humanity. No machine or technology can replace the contribution or continuing importance of this skill. It has been necessary in every age and is just as vital to civilization as our next breath.

— Michael R. Sull —