

Why Does Ice Float?

A substance floats if it is less dense than other components in a particular mixture.

Ice is approximately 9% less dense than liquid water.

