

Phonics Worksheets

Two-Blend Phonics

Phonics can be thought of as the known relationships between letters in writing and the verbal sounds they make in a language when we speak them.

Ending Phonics

Phonics can be thought of as the known relationships between letters in writing and the verbal sounds they make in a language when we speak them.

Directions: Say the word aloud that matches the picture. Then write the letters that match the end of the word.

1.

A. /sk/ B. /nk/ C. /f/

2.

A. /n/ B. /p/ C. /t/

3.

A. /sh/ B. /ash/

Download more worksheets at kidskonnnect.com

Which Phonics Fit?

Phonics can be thought of as the known relationships between letters in writing and the verbal sounds they make in a language when we speak them.

Directions: Read the words in each set and circle the word that does not fit phonetically. (hint: which word does not sound the same?)

Set one:

Parrot pig fox panda pepper

Set two:

Lettuce lunch labrador land dog

Set three:

Monkey floor money mother mat

Set four:

Animal rusty robot round ready

Download more worksheets at kidskonnnect.com