

3) Which day of the week has the highest observed frequency of visits compared to what was expected if all days had the same probability?

4) Remember: current staffing levels were based on the assumption that all weekdays have the same probability of visits. Given your answers to 2) and 3), on which day should staffing be cut? On which day should staffing be added?