

Reading-comprehension

The Fox and the Crow.

One day a Crow found a large piece of cheese. She sat in a tree and wanted to eat it, but suddenly she saw a fox.

The Fox came up to the tree. He looked up and saw the Crow. He saw a large piece of cheese also. The Fox wanted to get the cheese. He had a good plan in his mind.

He says: "How beautiful you are, Mrs. Crow! You have such big eyes and a beautiful nose. Your feathers are nice too. What a pity you cannot sing to show your voice."

The Crow opened her mouth and says, "But I CAN sing. Caw! Caw!"

When the Crow opened her mouth, the piece of cheese fell out. The Fox ran up to the cheese and ate it.

"Thank you very much," he says. The cheese was good. And you CAN sing well. What a pity you don't THINK WELL." And the Fox ran away.

Answer the questions.

1. What is the Crow like?
2. What is the Fox like?
3. What did the Crow find one day?
4. Where did it sit to eat it?
5. Who wanted to take the Crow's cheese?
6. What plan did the Fox have?
7. Did the Fox realize his plan?
8. What is the message of the story?
9. Do you think the author wanted to satirize people's character?
10. What would you do if you were a Crow?

